C LASS FOCUS

Room 4—We are learning to write persuasive text and practising for speech competition.

A Peanut Slab is the best chocolate bar on earth. It never lets you down when it comes to waking up your taste buds. It's really crunchy with those delicious peanuts in it. If you are waiting in a line it is worth waiting because it's irresistible. It takes you away on an adventure when you bite into it. It's like going to chocolate heaven. It's packet is amazing, it's like it's wrapped in real gold, and it deserves to be in that shiny gold packet. It is mouth watering. It can come in amazingly two sizes, bite size and king size. I reckon it's better than any other chocolate bar. So why don't you go buy one today.

*What are your views on zero waste lunch boxes?
Yes I do agree that we should take the wrappers off our lunch to eat because people keep on chucking rubbish onto the ground. When it floats down the drain it goes into the ocean and sometimes kills fish from the fish swallowing it. Some kids might suggest that they should help the caretaker (after school) to go and help him/her pick up the rubbish. So if you bring your lunch to school in wrappers, make sure you take it back home and not in* the school's rubbish bin because it costs the school more money than it does at home. Just the other day I saw a kid chuck a packet of burger rings on the ground at school. He didn't end up picking it up off the ground. I didn't think that was a good idea not looking after the earth he lives on. So if your lunch box gets dirty then just clean it out, otherwise your school will turn out poor and have no money for PE equipment.

*Do you like Milky Bars or Moro Bars?
I like Milky Bars because when I watch TV there is an advertisement where the girl goes "The Milky Bars are on me." That makes me laugh a lot. When you eat Moro Bars they are just straight. Not like Milky Bars. When you eat Moro Bars you get way too many caramels in the bar. For an example I took a bite. My mouth was full of caramel. I'm not saying I hate caramel. Milky Bars freshen your mouth up. Once I was looking for something to freshen my mouth up and I got a Milky Bar. It made me feel a lot better after I ate that. I believe Milk Bars are really yummy. If you're looking for something to freshen up your mouth try a Milky Bar.*
